

COME, TASTE, SEE

An exhibition celebrating the 1400th anniversary of the Diocese of Rochester
tracing landmarks in the history of Bromley

Friday 17th & Saturday 18th September
10.00 am – 4.00 pm on both days
Admission free

Friday 17 September

- Primary school groups and members of the public visit the exhibition

Saturday 18 September

- In addition to the exhibition the tower will be open.
- At 5.00 pm families of children who have attended the August Holiday Club will be invited to see film of the children's activities.
- At 6.00 pm Roly the Clown will perform. This is not just for children!
- Social time will follow.

Sunday 19 September

- Harvest Eucharist followed by Parish lunch

Help needed

We need stewards and welcomers for the exhibition. Will you be there?

Wanted Urgently!

Our Traidcraft Stall, selling fairly-traded goods, is held every Saturday morning alongside the Saturday Coffee Morning, and is run by a team of helpers who each cover one Saturday a month. After many years of faithful service, Gill Sammons is standing down, leaving a vacancy for the fourth Saturday of the month (which could be negotiable). This means ten times a year, as we do not open in August nor, usually, the Saturday after Christmas.

Qualities required: interested in fair-trade/justice issues, able-bodied to lift light boxes and create the display of goods for sale, sufficiently numerate to give the right change (something I sometimes need help with!), enjoying making customers and visitors to the coffee morning feel welcome, willing to be rushed off ones feet (occasionally) and equally willing to sit there and only sell to three customers (unfortunately common in the summer months).

The other members of the team are Bobbie Bourn and Alec Thompson and myself.
Please speak to Margaret Elves (8460 0829)

Margaret Elves