

Concert Series 2005

As those of you who attended know, the 2004 Concert Series ended with two excellent organ recitals by David Saint (St. Chad's, Birmingham) in October and Stephen Farr (Guildford Cathedral) in November. The programme for 2005 promises to be equally attractive.

As well as evening concerts by international artists, we shall as usual be giving organ students from the music colleges the opportunity to play our lovely organ in the lunchtime series. However the first three Tuesday concerts of the year will be chamber music given by local performers in the Clubroom (for warmth). On 18th January, Elizabeth Mace and John Flinders will give a programme of music for clarinet and piano. Elizabeth is now a student at the Royal Academy of Music but has performed with the Bromley Youth Music Trust orchestras and bands and last year won the prestigious Trotman Prize. In February, Simon Lane will be bringing his piano trio, and in March we shall have a harp recital by Keziah Thomas.

Organ concerts will begin on Easter Monday with the first recital by our own Director of Music, Thomas Corns. Brochures for the year are now available – do make a note of all the dates and come.

My Favourite Things

(to the tune of 'My Favourite Things' from the Sound of Music)

Sidespeople welcoming, all smiling faces
We all know where to sit 'cos we all have our places
The Organist plays, all choir sings
These are a few of my favourite things.

Chats over coffee and donkeys in crèches
Men wearing suits and the ladies in dresses
Incense and candles and stories of kings
These are a few of my favourite things

Sacristy's full, don't go in whilst they're dressing
Before we go home some kind Priest gives God's blessing
Hoping to see what the Sunday School Brings
These are a few of my favourite things

When it's raining, I'm hungover,
When the sermon drags....
I simply remember my favourite things
And then I don't feel so bad!
